

Lifesize® Share

Truly Wireless Media Sharing

No cables or limits to your meetings. Lifesize Share eliminates the clutter and delivers a truly wireless solution for sharing your media.

With Lifesize Share, all you need is your browser and you're ready to go, and that includes guests, too. Passing cords and dongles from presenter to presenter is a thing of the past. Share what's on your screen or stream online videos.

It's a simple way to quickly add wireless capabilities to conference, training and huddle rooms throughout your offices. Use it as a standalone device with your display, or connect it to your Lifesize® Icon™ or other video systems.

- Present from any laptop
- Use any room display
- Directly connect to any video conferencing system
- Quickly change presenters without complexity
- Guests can easily connect and share without special software downloads
- Ultrasonic pairing for simple and secure room connection
- Share your screen — presentations, documents and more
- Share online media — video and audio — without compromising quality
- Easy setup allows for quick deployment throughout your offices
- Automatic software updates
- Account management for control of all of the Lifesize Share devices on your network
